

Clover was a KS stray who came to CO to find his forever home. He's approx 1-2 y/o, and 17.5#. He's very sweet and dog friendly; a little reserved with bigger dogs though until he gets to know them. He rides well in the car and has his own version of 'fetch' where he doesn't always bring the ball back. He comes when called for the most part but because he is high energy, he'll need an active family who will teach him fun things and include him in their activities and a secure fenced in backyard. He does need some work on potty training; he goes to door and signals when he needs to potty but lacks focus to go do his business once outside. Clover would do best with older kids or no kids in the home. If you're interested in meeting Clover, the first step is to complete our application at
