

Cynthia is loving and sweet girl dumped at a rural TX shelter through no fault of her own. She gets along great with other dogs and doesn't seem to bother with cats. She is calm but still loves to play, especially with dog toys. Cynthia loves her people and usually just wants to cuddle (she has been sleeping in the big bed). She has been doing great with potty training and listens when you tell her to go outside. She's about 25 lbs. and ready for her new forever family.
