

Hunter is a sweet little 1 year old Pug/Chihuahua, he is about 7lbs. Little Hunter was dumped at a high kill shelter in Texas way back in early July. He sat there forever and no one came to adopt him. Finally his time was up and in order to make room for more dogs, Hunter had to go. The shelter reached out and asked us to take him in, he was way too cute to put to sleep. Hunter is in Colorado and looking for a home. He is an absolute doll and loves people and other dogs. He is very popular in the yard and all the dogs want to be his friend. We don't know why he did not get adopted, he is a very sweet and loveable pup. Hunter loves treats and will do almost anything for a treat!! He loves adventures, whether in the car or out on a walk. Hunter would make a great family pupper. He is sweet, adorable and very loving.
