

Poppy is a 2 year old 7 lb. Chihuahua rescued from Texas. She came to Rescue from a hoarder. There were over 40 Chihuahuas that were rescued and Poppy came with her two little babies. She is ready to find her own home now and hoping someone out there will give her all the love she deserves. Hoarder dogs are not given much human attention or love. Poppy can be a bit timid and shy at first because she is not sure if you are friend or foe. Once she learns that you are her friend and will give her all the belly rubs she wants, she will be yours forever. She is good with other dogs, but does not like cats. She is also good with kids and would make a great family pet or companion. She is a beautiful girl with beautiful markings. She deserves a home with a bed and a couple of toys to play with.
