

Spud is the sweetest guy you could ever meet. Spud is a snow dog, he loves to play in the snow and will hang out all day outside if he could. He is approx 2 years old and about 30 lb. He's dog friendly. He is a very well behaved pup who found himself in a shelter where no one came for him. Spud would make a great hiking and or camping partner, he is hoping someone will adopt him and show him all that Colorado has to offer. After a day of hiking he is the best little snuggle buddy. He will sit next to you and binge anything on Netflix with you, as long as you share your snack with him. He is potty trained and loves his crate. If interested in meeting Spud please complete our application at Spud's adoption fee is $325.00 - We require the application, home and reference check and meet and greet with current pets and/or children in the home. Spud is neutered, up to date on vaccs, and chipped prior.
